DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-22 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Andrew (4136879).

Andrew teaches a game board (Fig.1), a plurality of markers (Fig.4), a plurality of spaces (A1-A7 etc), start space (11), a plurality of cards (Fig.7-12), random number generator (Fig.3), and badges (Fig.5). Applicant may note that method steps/rules for playing the game do not further limit the apparatus in the claim. For example Andrew game pieces can be used for moving on spaces (rule) as well as for marking obtainable spaces (rule).

Applicant might argue that references spaces and cards are not the same as compared to applicant's spaces and cards.

The only difference between applicant's game and the applied reference resides in meaning and information conveyed by the printed matter and not considered patentable EX. Parte Breslow 192 USPQ 431.

For example modifying a task space/card to include a doctor's or a nurse's duties will not in spirit and scope change the configuration of task space/card.

Art Unit: 3711

In order to change the theme of the game, it would have been obvious to change the information on spaces/cards to match the theme of the game.

One of ordinary skill in art at the time the invention was made would have suggested modifying the indicia on spaces/cards to promote a game.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments, see remark page 10, filed 5/18/05, with respect to preliminary amendment filed on 2/20/04 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The non-final action of 2/18/05 has been withdrawn.

Upon further search a new non-final is being mailed.
